Every Fool is Meddling.
Proverb xx. verſ. 3.

To Mr. Lewis Timothy, Printer in Charles-Town.

SIR,

OBſerving for ſome time paſt, for want of ſomething either foreign, or ſome more ſprightly Genius among ourſelves to fill the firſt part of your Papers, that you have been forced to compleat your Sheet with any thing that comes to hand, I (who am your Subſcriber and a Carolinian) thought I might as well for once ſee ſomething from myſelf in your Paper, at a time when it has been lately fill'd with ſo unedifying and impertinent Stuff, from a Club rightly by themſelves termed Meddlers. A Name truly worthy, and defined with the utmoſt Accuracy from the Word Parſimonious, that from Parſimons, then with an i. e. (to let you know they would underſtand Latin) Meddlers A pretty beginning and no leſs ending without Connexion, Senſe or Harmony, ſaving the Name of the Club agreeing with the particular Talents of its addle Clubſters. I am ſorry that they think ſo much of their own parts, that they would make the World believe they were Carolinians, when their Performance is ſo void of Senſe, and their Deſign (if I may ſo call it) but ſprung from the ſpurious Iſſue of a booſy-bottle. We your Subſcribers in this part had as lief you would relate the celebrated Hiſtory of Jack the Giant killer, or Tom Thumb's Exploits, which would bring to remembrance the Innocency of our childiſh Years, when ſuch Trifles were reliſhed. I have not had my ſecond Paper, and am not ſorry, ſince I find by the third a Continuation of their firſt, but the third informs of their learned Debate they had of the Vice of the Bay, where Tarr, and Jack Tarr is the moſt of the Subject, the offenſiveneſs of Tarr; a ſmell moſt People counts healthy, when the inoffenſiveneſs of common ſweet Powder ſtrikes them dead, if it comes within a quarter of a Mile off their Wiggs. I think the Ladies are much obliged to the worthy Cenſors for cautioning them againſt Jack Tarrs in Gentlemens Coats; and with an Air of ſeverity, deſire they wou'd ſpend their evening walk on the Green, which I dare anſwer for them, they think much more proper for their Occaſions than the Bay, the moſt frequented place in Town, thereby intimating their Deſire to give a green Gown behind a Pine Buſh, which wou'd be more pleaſant than in a Cart. But not to be further tedious, as I expect to be anſwered by Bob the Careleſs Secretary, who never had care in his life but this once in characterifing himſelf in his true Colours that without ſtudying he may be eaſily gueſt, I ſay without further anſwering what they may ſay, I refer him to the above Motto which I think is a propos both to their Principles as the name of their Club. I conclude myſelf.

DIOGENES RUSTICUS.

Foreign Advices from the London Magazine for MAY 1735.

LONDON, May 31.

They write from Naples, that the Prieſts there labour with all their Power to keep the People ſteady to the new Government, and have Miracles at their Fingers Ends to evidence the Finger of Heaven in the late Change. They have Saints in every Corner of the Street, that will ſmile if you huzza for Don Carlos; and the Arms of that Prince lately ſetting up in one of the Churches, an Image of the Virgin Mary, which had ſtood in the ſame Poſition for 20 Years before, turned about and pointed to the Eſcutcheon. The famous Scene of St. Januarius being play'd over on the late Feſtival of St. Philip, the King of Spain's Name Day, the congeal'd Blood liquify'd in an Inſtant, and boil'd up with ſuch Vehemence, that it almoſt threaten'd the Glaſs that held it, to the great Terror of the Prieſt who had accidentally over-heated the Phial. The Head of the Saint which is likewiſe brought out on theſe ſolemn Occaſions was obſerv'd to have a new Pair of Whiskers.

The Right Hon Horatio Walpole Eſq; his Majeſty's Ambaſſador to the States-General, had an Audience of their High Mightineſſes, and preſented a Memorial, couch'd in very pathetick Terms, conjuring them to put the Republick in ſuch a Condition as might give more Weight to their Mediation, and enable them to act in Concert with the King his Maſter.

Syracuſe ſtill holds out for the Emperor

From Mantua. The French have quitted Baſtiglia, and are come in Sight of our Men The Imperialiſts have abandon'd Caſtiglione, and have form'd a body of 6000 Men near Borghetto, in the Neighbourhood of Goito, to oppoſe the Deſign which the Allies ſeem to have of cutting off their Communication with Tirol An Ordinance has been publiſh'd at this Place, enjoyning all Perſons, to make a Proviſion for Eating and Drinking for a Year and a half, and whoever ſhall not, ſhall be driven out of the Town without Mercy.

His Majeſty ſettled 500 l. per Ann. on Dr. Douglas, who attended the Princeſs of Orange in Holland and is return'd to England, her Highneſs not proving with Child.

We hear that the Princeſs talk'd off for a Marriage with his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Wales, is of the Houſe of Anſpach Bareith, a Relation of her Majeſty's, being eſteem'd the moſt complete Lady in all Germany, and celebrated not only for her Beauty, but her uncommon Senſe and Application to Literature and the polite Sciences.

Newport, June 20. We are inform'd that a Dutch Ship from Holland of 24 Guns arrived at Surinam the latter end of April laſt, were the Men roſe and kill'd their Captain, and threw him overboard, and likewiſe the Second Mate. The Chief Mate they cut in ſeveral parts of his Body becauſe he would not conſent to their wicked deſigns, and afterwards turn'd him aſhoar in the Long Boat with ſeveral young Gentlemen Paſſengers belonging to Surinam, who had been in Holland for Education, and then the Rogues run away with the Ship.

Extract of the Treaty of Navigation and Commerce between Great Britain and Ruſſia, concluded at Petersburg the 2d of December 1734

NAvigation and Commerce ſhall be perfectly free in the Eſtates of both the contracting Powers, in Europe, where Navigation is permitted to any other Nation.

The Subjects of both Powers may ſend all ſorts of Merchandizes, the Importation whereof is not forbid, and buy there likewiſe all ſorts of Merchandizes, and Tranſport them out of the ſaid Eſtates.

The Subjects of Ruſſia ſhall pay the ſame Duties of Exportation as the Engliſh, particularly the Effects that go out of Ruſſia; and the Ruſſian Merchants ſhall enjoy the ſame Liberties and Priviledges of Commerce in England, as the Engliſh Merchants of the Ruſſia Company, provided they obſerve the eſtabliſhed Laws and Ordinances.

If the Subjects of Great Britain make Contracts with the Chancery, or College of Commerce, for the Delivery of Merchandizes, the ſaid Merchandizes ſhall be received in the time ſpecified, on a Declaration they ſhall make of their being ready.

The Engliſh may carry to Ruſſia all ſorts of Merchandizes, and tranſport them by Land to Perſia, on paying 3 per Cent. Duty, as likewiſe to carry back from Perſia all ſorts of Merchandizes, on paying the ſame Duty, without being obliged to open their Bales; but if the Officers of the Cuſtoms have reaſon to ſuſpect that the juſt Value thereof hath not been declared, they may ſtop the Goods for their Inſpection, and in the mean time be paid according to the Value declared.

It ſhall be allowed to Subjects of both Nations to load their Ships with any kind of Merchandizes, on paying the ſame Cuſtom as the Subjects of other Nations: and in caſe of Fraud in paying the ſaid Duty, the Goods ſhall be forfeited without any further Puniſhment.

If any more warlike Stores ſhall be found on board any Engliſh Ship, than ſhall be neceſſary for the Uſe of the ſaid Ship or Paſſengers, it ſhall be liable to be detained.

In caſe of Shipwreck all manner of aſſiſtance ſhall be given, without offering the leaſt violence to the Crew or Effects.

The Subjects on both ſides may build houſes and diſpoſe of them, without being obliged to furniſh Quarters for Soldiers; and Paſſports ſhall be granted to all them who ſhall think fit to retire, two Months after they notify their Deſign of going away.

Engliſh Merchants ſhall not be obliged to ſhew their Books to any one whatſoever, except it be to prove ſomething in Diſpute; and for the greater Eaſe and Encouragement of the Britiſh Commerce, it is agreed, that for the future the Engliſh Manufactures ſhall pay no greater Duty on Importation than is ſpecified.

This Treaty is to hold 15 Years, to begin from the Day of the Date.

CHARLES-TOWN, September 6.

On Thurſday laſt at Chriſt-Church Pariſh died the Reverend Mr. Fullerton, late Miniſter of the ſaid Pariſh, and was decently buried the Fryday following.

On Monday Evening laſt, Capt.--------lately Maſter of a Sloop, and a young Tonſor of this Town, had a mind to imitate your Gentlemen Honour, by a Trial of Skill at Sword and Piſtol, wherein they rather frighted than hurt each other; and the moſt melancholy Circumſtance attending this hardy Adventure, is, that Capt. Quixot has ſince fainted away ſeveral times from a ſtrong Imagination of himſelf being mortally wounded, and having actually killed his Antagoniſt. This grand Quarrel, like moſt others of that ſort, unhappily aroſe from their ſeveral Pretenſions to the Favours of a certain ſable Beauty.

Two Hotſpurs unnoted for martial adventures,
To give the World proof they were right bully ranters,
Talk'd big to each other of proweſs and fighting,
Tho' ſome ſay, their breeches more ſavour a of ſh——ng
Yet out they both turn'd, and to battle they went,
Both lug'd out their Swords, and began to ——— repent:
When each by conſent, fear of ruſting his blade,
Made his ſcabbard receive all the thruſts that were made,
Then freely ſhook hands, greatly griev'd they had flouted,
And ſo return'd home like two Heroes recruited
Thus oft have I ſeen two dunghill cocks meet,
With creſts high erect, peck and ſcrape with their feet,
Then inſtead of advancing both draw off and crow,
And ſtrut to their hens without one ſparring blow.

THe Houſe that John Fairchild lately lived in up the Path above the three mile poſt, till February next. Inquire of John or Wm. Fairchild.

WHereas ſome malicious and evil diſpoſed perſon ſent an Affidavit laſt Week to my Printing Office, which my People inſerted in the Gazette without attending the to Purport of it, while I was buſily employed upon another work: And whereas I have ſince perceived it was intended to aſperſe a certain eminent Merchant of this Town, I therefore humbly beg the ſaid Gentleman's Pardon, which I flatter myſelf, I ſhall the eaſier obtain, when I aſſure him, that my Offence aroſe purely from ignorance and inadvertency, and that, all dirt and Obloquy will recoil, and leave no Impreſſion on ſo fair and unblemiſhed a Character, when caſt by a Man, of that known Modeſty & Veracity, as his is, that this is ſuppoſed to have come from. The Truth of the whole will more fully appear from the following Letter and Affidavit of Mr. Wm Gibſon.

Mr. Timothy,

Seeing an Affidavit in your laſt Gazette, wherein it is affirmed that I was concerned with one Patrick Haderwick in getting a Power of Attorny from one Dennis Sconell, and that the eaſier to perſuade Him to it, I had made uſe of Mr Richard Hill's name; the whole is a ſcandalous and malicious falſhood as your Readers will ſee by the following Affidavit, which if you will pleaſe to inſert in your next, you will much oblige your humble Servant,

Wm. Gibſon.

Com. Berkly ſſ.

BEfore me Tho: Dale Eſq; one of his Majeſty's Juſtices aſſigned to keep the Peace in Berkly County, perſonally appeared William Gibſon, who being duly ſworn, maketh Oath and ſaith, that having ſome time ſince had buſineſs on board a Ship lately commanded by Capt: Finch, and which then lay in Rebellion Road. Mr: Carwithen the Pilote deſired him, this Deponent, to take his Place at the Helm, while he went to get a draught of Punch, the weather being then very cold; and that while he this Deponent was at the Helm, he ſaw one Patrick Haderwick, known only to this Deponent by name, very earneſt in Diſcourſe with another perſon, to this Deponent entirely unknown, but whoſe name, as this Deponent has been ſince inform'd, is Dennis Sconell, that he this Deponent could not hear the main of their Diſcourſe, but only now and then a Sentence, among which he particularly remembers Sconell to have ſaid, that the old Son of a Bitch had taken the advantage of him by catching him drunk, and had trick'd him out of the Note, when he really owed him but 3 or 6 Pounds; but what Note they were talking of, and who was meant by the appellation of old Son of a B—— was then to this Deponent altogether unknown: He further ſaith that Haderwick told Sconell he need not yet looſe his money, if he would but give him a Power of Attorney to receive it, and that he would remit it to him to any place he ſhould command, or keep it for him till he ſaw him again, upon which they went down together into the Cabin, and this Deponent was afterwards deſired, with ſome other perſons, to be Witneſſes to a Power of Attorney from Sconell to Haderwick, the Subſtance and Purport whereof was to him this Deponent unknown: He farther ſaith, that he never heard the Names of Mr. Richard Hill and Samuel Holmes once mentioned all the while he was on board, and that, as to Mr. Richard Hill, he, this Deponent, had then never exchanged a word with him in his life. Wm. Gibſon.
